

Wedding at Monsalvat

Dear Lucas,

We were fortunate enough to have The Orlando Trio with guest saxophonist Ian Chaplin perform at our wedding. From the outset to conclusion they were an absolute joy to work with. All of the coordination for the event was handled quickly and with no fuss. More importantly though, the mood that Orlando set for our reception meant that everyone present couldn't help but have a good time. The repertoire selected fit the bill, and the talent and professionalism of the musos were second to none.

It is always a gamble trying to find a musical group for a function (especially when both bride and groom are fussy musicians themselves), but we would have absolutely no hesitation in recommending The Orlando Trio to anyone for their function. The shame of it was that, as we were entertaining our wedding guests, we couldn't just sit down for the whole night and take in the fine musicianship of Lucas and the members of Orlando. The guys are passionate about their music-that, combined with their collective talent means that you can't go wrong.
